IOM MENTORSHIP

Annie Bee Frankel is a native of Tampa, Florida and began her training at 3 years old. Following high school, Annie received an offer for The Ohio State Dance team and Pace University. She moved to New York City and continued her training and education at Pace University, where she graduated with a BFA in Commercial Dance with a double concentration in performance and choreography. Annie is signed with Go2 Talent Agency and has gotten the opportunity to work with and train under choreographers such as Dom Chaiduang, Jillian Myers, Dominique Kelley, Marinda Davis, Brian Nicholson, Jess Hendricks, and Claire Ross. Annie Bee is also a company member with MarInspired - The Storytellers; who she most recently performed with at the Joyce Theater in NYC debuting work by guest artist Marinda Davis. Before moving to LA, she worked in NYC where she was able to assist the production of "From Dystopia to Our Declaration" debuting at the Joyce Theater for Philadanco - under direction and choreography of Nijawwon Matthews. While working professionally in Los Angeles Annie has had the opportunity to dance in music videos while teaching across the country and judging for Starpower Talent Competition. Most recently Annie was the associate choreographer for Royal Caribbean's newest show 'Create' on Star of the Seas inaugural season.

The aim of this program is to develop skills for the artists personal growth that then translate to reaching performance skills (working from the inside out). The focus will be geared toward audition prep, convention prep, competition prep and then focusing on the dancers' goals and how to achieve those goals past high school.

Annie has a deep passion for growth as an artist and believes that performance skills and success in the industry begins with understanding who you are as a human first.
